

Journey House continues its 36 year tradition of encouraging and supporting former foster youth to reach their highest educational potential, especially completing college and/or professional training.

We make a tremendous effort to reduce obstacles and provide financial support for students after government support expires at age 24. Because of donors like you, we are fortunate to help former foster youth 18 years old and older and without age limits. Our youth continue to remind us that they need support well beyond their 18th and 24th birthdays to successfully complete their education, move into the workplace, and earn a livable wage to live independently and happy lives.

We sincerely thank you for supporting our students in 2018.

Journey House Endowment

Each year, Journey House supports a growing number of former foster youth. To ensure there are resources to help these young adults well into the future, Journey House has set up the Brother Tim Endowment Fund, managed by the Pasadena Community Foundation. Thanks to the support of the following very generous donors, we have already raised over $120,000 for the Endowment.

A very special thank you to the Endowment donors.

In 2018, Beyond Foster Care participated in two major pieces of legislation in Sacramento that benefit former foster youth attending California colleges. We also supported California legislators in their passage to increase the age for foster youth to receive Chaffee Grants from age 22 to 26. In 2019, we plan to support a bill that will add additional funds for foster youth in graduate school, and a bill that will help reduce student hunger living on college campuses. Our students will continue to be engaged in speaking opportunities. Thank you for supporting Journey House and our work ensuring academic success.
